

The Zodiac is Babylonian

by Jeremy James

Babylonian Zodiac sign (Scorpio) in the Temple of Khnum, Egypt

Christians do not give sufficient thought to what the Wicked actually believe. The word ‘paganism’ is immensely broad and conveys too little. We know they worship Satan in one of his many guises – Jupiter, Saturn, Apollo, Osiris, Baal, etc – and perform a variety of rituals which honor their false ‘deity’ as a god. Since this fallen angel craves their worship, they are obliged, as they advance further along the path of darkness, to make sacrificial blood offerings in his name and to swear allegiance to him with bindings vows.

As Christians we know that he tries to emulate or imitate God and to prove to his followers that he is at least equal to God in power and majesty. Only those who fall under his power are deceived by his impostures and counterfeits. His followers have been blinded to the truth of Christ, to his light and wisdom, and are forced to get by as best they can with the synthetic morsels that Satan throws their way. Even these must be paid for, so there exists within the ranks of the Wicked a covetous and envious spirit which continually drives them forward, competing with one another for advancement into a higher level in Satan’s hierarchy.

The Enemy has tried to deflect attention away from his obvious deficiencies. The One True God is the Creator, but Satan can create nothing. This is why he continues to push the ridiculous teaching known as ‘Evolution’, whereby the staggering wonders of creation are reduced to a nearly endless series of chance events.

The Fourth Day of Creation

He even tries to disguise the work that God performed on the Fourth Day of Creation when He made the sun, the moon and the stars. This too is dismissed by a scientific fairytale called ‘the big bang’ – a Jesuit invention. If everything came out of nothing, then ‘Creation’ is really a projection in the so-called Matrix, a sophisticated astral cosmology in which ‘evolution’ is possible. His followers believe this lie since it enables Satan to hide his inability to create anything. They drool over the movie The Matrix because it enables them to spread this false teaching to a wider audience.

Transhumanism

As technology advances the Enemy is able to make a greater variety of counterfeits. Take Transhumanism. This tries to blend biological matter with electronics. Both of these sciences are based entirely on the laws made by God and use the material and living cells provided by God, but the Wicked like to believe that their so-called Master is “creating” something new when he combines the two.

The Enemy is also using the science of genetics to manipulate the functionality and morphology of living organisms to produce hybrids and chimeras. These are deformities or aberrant expressions of what God has designed. Once again we can see how he is using the living cells created by God, along with the laws designed by God, to produce an effect which his followers mistake for ‘creativity’.

By doing this the Enemy succeeds in both blaspheming God by mocking His creation and deceiving mankind by substituting pathetic counterfeits for the masterpieces created by God.

The Heavens

The heavenly part of God’s creation has always been a problem for the Enemy. Every night in ancient times, all across the Middle East – where mankind originated and began to populate the earth – everyone alive could look into the night sky and contemplate a sight that was too awesome to describe. Here is how it looks today, as seen from the Salt Flats of Bolivia:

[Credit: Jordi Busqué]

This is why Psalm 19 opens with this truly majestic assertion:

“The heavens declare the glory of God;
and the firmament sheweth His handiwork”

The Enemy has striven to hide this from our eyes, mostly by crowding people into cities where light pollution and impurities in the atmosphere block it from our view. In order to see it properly today, as it was seen by everyone in the period prior to the Flood and for a long time thereafter, it is necessary to find a dry, high altitude location where the air is clear and no light is emanating from a ground-based source. The Salt Flats of Bolivia are ideal for this.

Mojave Desert

I was blessed with my one and only experience of this remarkable sight in 1982 while camping outdoors in Death Valley national park in the Mojave Desert. The sky was unbelievably clear that night and the stars were shimmering in glorious colors, like a vast pool of radiant jewels, from one end to the other. In many instances their colors even seemed to change and the stars themselves appeared to pulsate. While the desert landscape around us was completely silent, the sky above our heads seemed to hum in a low, almost palpable cadence. I don't know how else to describe it. It was as though the stars were singing praises to God and inviting us to share in their exultation.

Bear in mind as you read this that I am describing a physical experience, a sight that everyone nearby could share. They too were overcome by the incredible beauty and presence of the vista that was glowing all around them, almost within arm's reach.

Is it any wonder that Satan is spraying our skies with chemtrails! He would appear to be using this wicked method of poisoning mankind, not only to distribute his toxic cocktail over a wide area, but because it fills the atmosphere with particulates which block our view of the night sky. So, while the heavens are declaring the glory of God, the broken masses of mankind, huddled beneath, are denied the immense spiritual refreshment that may be found by contemplating the heavens.

The Enemy has his own version of the night sky, namely the black screen of smartphones and tablets, a space he populates with scintillating trivia which ensure that millions continue to look down – but never look up and seek the glory of God.

The Enemy had to ‘disguise’ the night sky

The Enemy needed to create an impressive mythology based on the stars in order to blind mankind to their awesome message. He needed to imprint the night sky with a message of his own to distract mankind and prevent us from contemplating the glory of God. The message from Satan needed to appeal to a basic need in man, namely his perennial desire to know the future and to chart a course in life which held out a promise of love and wealth, health and happiness.

We know this system as Astrology! It was founded in ancient Babylon and has spread to every corner of the world. All of paganism draws extensively on Astrology, either directly or through the many astral and magical ideas which permeate the ‘science’ of Astrology and its arcane cosmology.

The Zodiac is Babylonian. It is Satan’s invention and has no relevance whatever to the Bible.

Babylonian Zodiac sign (Sagittarius) in the Temple of Khnum, Egypt

The Ecliptic plane

If Satan wanted to come up with a system which embraced the entire night sky, with its zillions of stars, it would be far too complicated to understand. Instead he chose the path of the sun and the moon – since the sun is in real motion – and concentrated on the “wandering stars” (Jude 1:13) as their paths intersected with that of the sun and the moon. This region of the sky is known as the ecliptic plane.

We know from God’s Word (Jude 1:13) that the wandering stars – also known as the planets – are compared to the Wicked, the ungodly rebels who defy God’s will and follow their own course:

“Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame;
wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness forever.”

While all the stars in the heavens are in a fixed position in relation to one another, the planets are not. They follow a somewhat erratic course as they allegedly orbit the sun. We won’t examine further the false cosmology designed by Satan to confuse mankind since we have already dealt with it at length elsewhere (See the papers in the section of our website called True Cosmology and Satan’s Alternative Reality).

Having picked the “wandering stars” or planets as the principal players in his astral drama, he added as a backdrop the constellations or star clusters through which the sun passed in the course of the year. He now had a stage (the ecliptic), an elaborate backdrop (the constellations through which the sun passed), and the various actors whose performance mankind was urged to observe (the planets). Men were taught to believe that the movement of the planets had a direct influence on the super-fine cosmic material which allegedly filled the universe. This material was later described as the “Force” in witchcraft and advertised as such to the world at large in the popular ‘Star Wars’ movie franchise.

The seductive power of Astrology

Astrology teaches that man can identify his destiny because it is written in the stars. It is fixed at birth and cannot be changed. Thus Satan taught from the time of Nimrod that every man was locked permanently onto a fixed path and could only make tiny changes in accordance with the latitude allowed him by the stars. Thus he had to study the stars and detect therein the opportunities that were astrologically determined to come his way, avoiding the bad ones and watching out for the good ones.

What an incredible trap! This ingenious deception took the light-pulsating vista that declared the glory of God and turned it into a puny system of mental enslavement. Every time a person looked at the night sky, his main thought was, “How can I discern my destiny and find a way to wealth and success?” He or she was blinded by his own covetousness to this glorious manifestation of God’s Creation.

The system appealed greatly to the intellectuals who ruled Babylon. With their superior knowledge and mathematical skills, they could analyze the heavens in detail, using the system devised by Satan, and work out the best times to undertake new works and embark on a promising course of action. Princes and merchants needed skilled astrologers to do this for them and made important commercial, military and political decisions based on the advice they received.

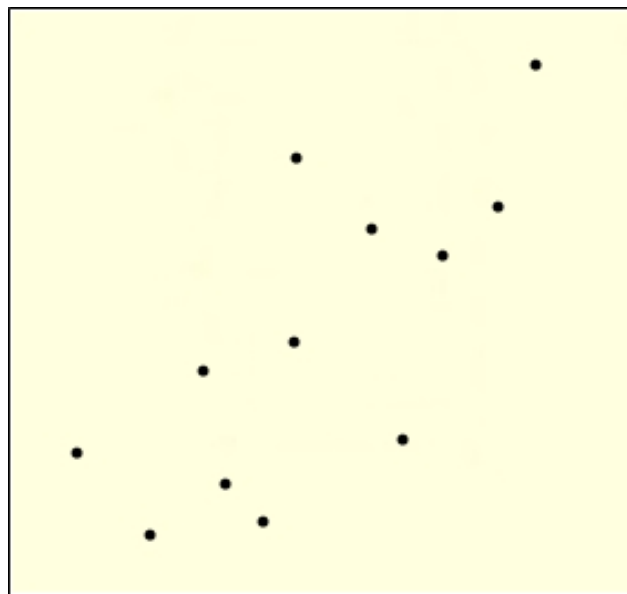

The twelve Zodiac signs

In designing his system, Satan assigned patterns to each of the 12 constellations through which the sun passed during the year (It actually passes through 13 but the Enemy must have decided that his system would work better with twelve). He gave each an asterism or star pattern, that is a signature based on straight lines linking neighboring stars. We know these as the signs of the Zodiac.

These primary images became engraved in the minds of men, especially men of talent and ability. They saw them as stepping stones to an illustrious career, where power and wealth were sure to come their way.

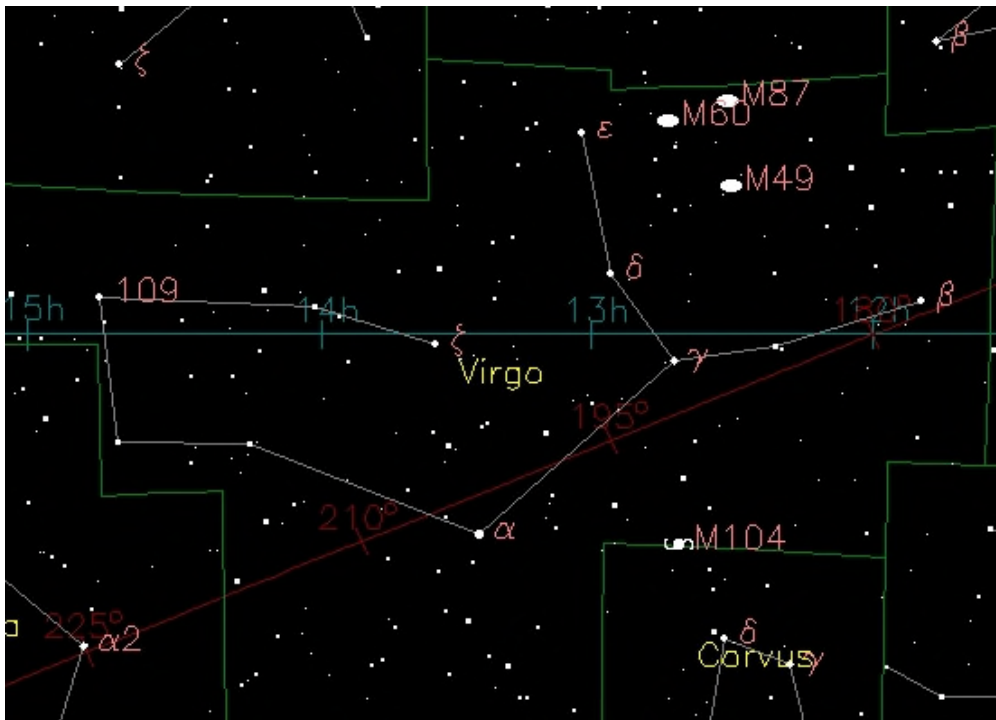

As our common sense should tell us, these Zodiac asterisms were purely arbitrary! There were countless ways to divide up the star clusters that lay along the ecliptic, and countless ways thereafter to assign linkages between individual stars. The images he selected were those which were most suited to the lies that he intended to foist upon mankind. The crab didn't look like a crab, nor did the lion look like a lion, but that didn't matter. Once they became fixed in the minds of men – as Cancer and Leo, respectively – they would lodge there forever.

For example, people today imagine that the stars in Virgo really represent a woman, but they don't. They are no more than an arbitrary construct in a cosmic farce written by Satan. In their fallen condition and driven by covetousness, men submit to this absurdity because it holds out hope of material success.

These were the stars selected for inclusion in the 'Virgo' asterism.
Do you see a woman here!

Even more perplexing – and further evidence of a grand scam – is the number of stars in the immediate vicinity that were not selected for inclusion in the ‘Virgo’ asterism:

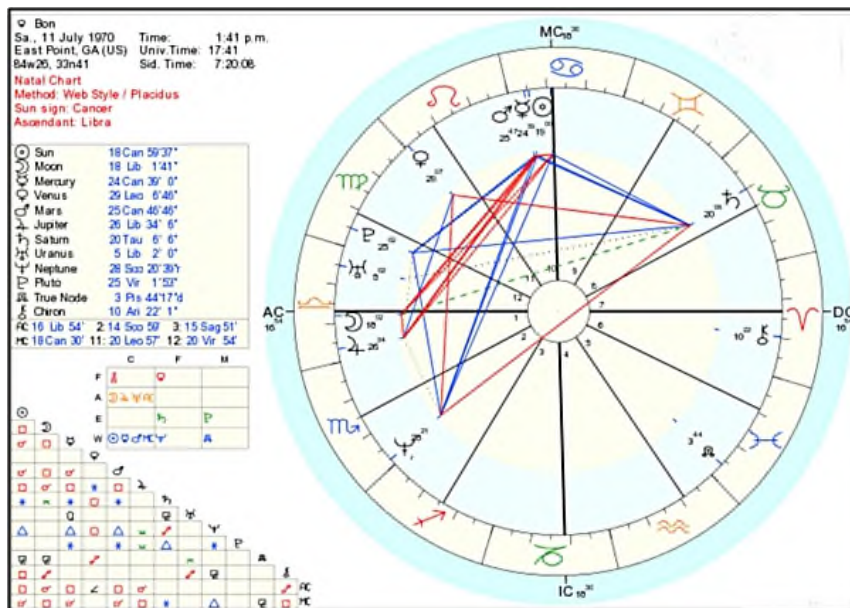

Consider the ‘Cancer’ asterism below. Dozens of contiguous stars are ignored and the six that are included might possibly denote a bent coat hanger, but certainly not a crab!

All of the other Zodiac signs are just as artificial and imaginary. They are not based on any ‘truth’ in the sky but on a cunning program of deception devised by the Enemy.

Does this mean that Zodiac star signs and Astrology in general are totally bogus? Of course it does! Astrology is a massive Satanic lie, where false ‘science’ is used to beguile mankind and keep sin-damaged man from seeking the One True God and His wonderful Son, Jesus Christ. It even uses complex mathematical computations and elaborate technical charts to strengthen the illusion that something meaningful is being examined. As such it is undoubtedly the earliest use of false ‘science’ by the Enemy to deceive mankind.

Planetary conjunctions and the Star of Bethlehem

Many Christians have been influenced by the claim that the ‘star of Bethlehem’ was really a conjunction of two or more planets. Jupiter and Saturn are the candidates most often cited (The last conjunction of these planets took place on 21 December 2020). In reality the conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn would not be unusually bright and, at its peak, would last only a few hours. For a week before and after, the planets would appear very close together but their combined luminosity would be less than the peak. So, if the wise men from Chaldea in the east were being guided by a planetary conjunction, their guidance – such as it was – would have been viable for only a couple of days. This would have been useless for a journey that would have taken several weeks.

It has also been argued that a new star in the sky, brighter than all the rest, could have guided the wise men in a westerly direction. This too is untenable for the simple reason that every star in the sky was moving in a westerly direction! All stars at that latitude rise in the east and move in a uniform manner toward the west.

By the way, the idol called Chiun in Amos 5:26 was more than likely the planet Saturn, which is often identified with Satan himself. The star Remphan in Acts 7:43 is also believed to be a transliteration into Greek of the Coptic name for Saturn. Would our Heavenly Father have used such an object to reveal the location of His incarnate Son?

The star seen by the wise men must have been an angel of God, possibly even a choir of angels. These men alone could see this phenomenon and probably knew from Bible prophecy, as taught by Daniel, that the Messiah was scheduled to come into the world about that time. They could therefore infer that the unusual “star” which they saw was connected to this incredible event. As it happened, they weren’t the only ones to be guided to the baby Jesus by an angel or angelic host. The shepherds keeping their flock had a similar experience:

“And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.”
(Luke 2:13-14)

But, some ask, what about the “signs” in the sky that Jesus said would precede the End Time? Surely these are related in some way to astronomical or astrological events?

This is what the Enemy would have us believe. After all he has tried to connect Jupiter and Saturn, the great gods of paganism, with the birth of Jesus!

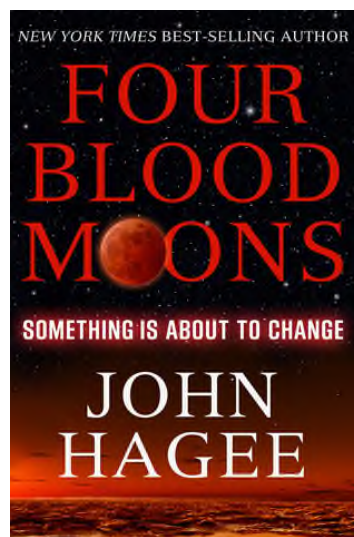

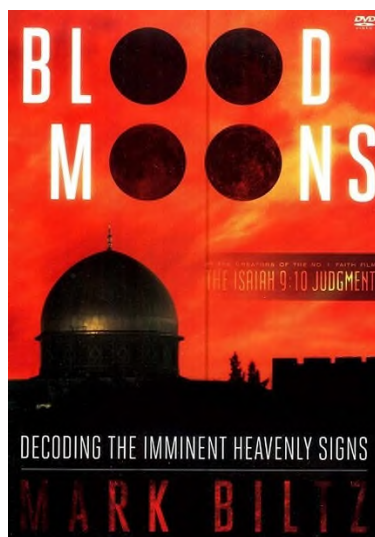

Mystical Astronomy

Our understanding of the End Time warning signs mentioned by Jesus, which are found in Matthew 24, Luke 21 and Mark 13, cannot be divorced from the audience that was expected to receive them. The signs related to phenomena that were plainly visible and easy to recognize. There was definitely nothing astrological about any of them. When he spoke of signs in the sky Jesus had already given an example of the errors that many would make:

“He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red. And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowring. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?” (Matthew 16:2-3)

Astrology is Satan’s science. It includes both the elements he has conjured up in his own imagination, as well as the elements in the night sky to which he has attached a mystical significance. To that extent there is an overlap between Astrology and Astronomy. Mystical Astronomy can be just as misleading as Astrology.

These mystical elements include solar and lunar eclipses, as well as planetary alignments that occur very infrequently.

A few years ago we had a flurry of excitement when it was discovered that four “blood moons” – a tetrad – would occur over Jerusalem on significant dates. A “blood moon” is a lunar eclipse, and is so named because the face of the moon appears to turn a reddish color during the 3-4 hour period of the eclipse.

The tetrad dates in question were (a) April 15, 2014; (b) October 8, 2014; (c) April 4, 2015; and (d) September 28, 2015. These happened to coincide with major Jewish Feasts, as follows: (i) Passover 2014, (ii) Tabernacles 2014, (iii) Passover 2015, and (iv) Tabernacles 2015.

Best-selling books at the time were suggesting that these events portended the start of the Tribulation.

Total lunar eclipse over Jerusalem, 27 July 2018

Probability

How realistic was this and what was it based on? Several passages of the Bible speak of the moon turning red during the End Time. But the passages, when taken in context, are speaking of an extended period of time, not 3-4 hours. The authors are also assuming that the phenomenon described in the Bible is produced by a lunar eclipse, but this is speculation only.

They also made much of the fact that the eclipses in question occurred on four consecutive Jewish Feasts, Passover 2014 and 2015 and Tabernacles 2014 and 2015. But this too is not nearly as unusual as many seem to think. The Jewish calendar is lunar and each month starts on the first sighting of the new moon (when the moon is barely visible). Since a lunar eclipse can only take place during a full moon, then it is sure to occur 14-15 days after the start of the Jewish month. Both of these Feasts take place on the 15th day of their respective months in the Jewish calendar, so there is a good chance that one, if not both, will coincide with a lunar eclipse. As it happens, one sixth of all lunar eclipses over Jerusalem occur during Passover or Tabernacles.

The Tetrad argument

A sequence of four blood moons on major festive dates, it is argued, is without precedent. But this is not the case. Over the past 2000 years there have been 8 occasions when a tetrad occurred on these Jewish Feasts (Tetrad means 4, implying a lunar eclipse on each of four consecutive feasts, Passover twice and Tabernacles twice). If a tetrad marked the beginning of the Tribulation, then it should have begun on the first of those 8 occasions!

The authors of these books profess to be Christian but, like so many others, they ignore the plain declaration by Jesus that no-one knows the commencement date of these events:

“But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.” (Matthew 24:36)

The Enemy is well pleased when men ignore this fact. It allows him to highlight rare astronomical events and claim that they are prophetic date signs set by God in His celestial clock.

The Roman Catholic Virgin

We were given a striking example of this in 2017 when the Vatican published an article titled, ‘Biblical Signs in the Sky? September 23, 2017.’

It was addressing numerous claims on the Internet that the woman mentioned in Revelation 12:1 could be identified with a celestial configuration scheduled to appear on 23 September 2017. The hypothesis was summarized as follows in the article:

On September 23, 2017 the sun will be in the zodiac constellation Virgo – “a woman clothed with the sun”. The moon will be at the feet of Virgo – “with the moon under her feet”. The ‘nine’ stars of the zodiac constellation Leo, plus three planets (Mercury, Venus, and Mars), will be at the head of Virgo – “on her head a crown of twelve stars”. The planet Jupiter will be in the center of Virgo, and as the weeks pass after September 23 Jupiter will exit Virgo to the east, past her feet, so to speak – “She was with child and wailed aloud in pain as she labored to give birth”. Jupiter is the largest of the planets, the “king” of the planets, so to speak – “She gave birth to a son, a male child, destined to rule all the nations with an iron rod”. Must this not be a sign of something momentous, like the Internet sources say?

The Bible verses in italics are from chapter 12 of the Book of Revelation.

The author claimed that he had been contacted about this hypothesis and that the enquirer had provided a screen shot from the Stellarium website depicting the celestial configuration in question. We have reproduced the chart below, with the names of the relevant celestial objects shown in yellow.

<https://www.vaticanobservatory.org/sacred-space-astronomy/biblical-signs-sky-september-23-2017/>

The article did not endorse these claims and denied that there was any scientific basis to astrological speculation. In short, it rejected the idea that Revelation 12 was associated with the constellation Virgo or that it was possible to interpret the chapter by reference to patterns in the starry sky.

We are concerned, however, that the Vatican gave such a prominent platform to this astrological hypothesis in the first place and that it reproduced so many images – six in all – of the Virgo star pattern. Many readers of the article would conclude that there was more to the story than the Vatican cared to admit and that, by adopting a whimsical tone, the author was trying to avoid a more sober examination of the matter.

The Vatican has always claimed that the woman in Revelation 12 is the Virgin Mary. Between the mid-19th and mid-20th centuries, it also declared, as formal doctrines of faith, that Mary was “miraculously” (sinlessly) conceived [1854] and later assumed alive into heaven by supernatural means [1950]. This is strongly reminiscent of the heavenly virgin depicted in the Virgo star pattern, a type of deified Mary. So, it actually suits the Vatican to see the Virgo interpretation of Revelation 12 being popularized online. This may explain why the Virgo zodiac was reproduced six times in the article when once would have been enough.

Born-again believers know that the Vatican is deceived. The woman in Revelation 12 is not the Virgin Mary but the righteous remnant of Israel and that her child is Jesus. She will flee into the wilderness during the Tribulation and receive supernatural protection from the forces of darkness which are furiously striving to destroy her.

CONCLUSION

To the ancient Babylonians, everything in the sky has a counterpart on earth. This is known as the occult principle, As Above, So Below. It means that anything out of the ordinary in the sky, such as an eclipse, must be a sign of an impending unnatural event here on earth. The common people therefore regarded an eclipse as something ominous, a portent of something unpleasant, if not destructive, in their daily lives.

The Milky Way as seen from Egypt.
To the ancient Egyptians this was "the Nile in the sky".
According to the ancient Babylonian principle,
'As Above, So Below', the Nile on earth had to have a counterpart in heaven.

The LORD calls this "the way of the heathen" and asks that we "be not dismayed at the signs of heaven" -

"Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the heathen are dismayed at them." (Jeremiah 10:2)

Paganism is riddled with astrological superstitions and some of these have found their way into western thinking. They are not Christian! They deny the absolute sovereignty of God and elevate Destiny and Fortune to celestial or supernatural realities which man has to contend with continually.

The Babylonians and Canaanites worshipped Meni and Gad, which were the 'gods' of Destiny and Fortune, respectively. The Bible warns of these two 'gods' but, for some reason, the KJV mistranslates the passage in Isaiah which mentions both of them:

“But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number.” (Isaiah 65:11)

The word translated “troop” is Gad in the Hebrew text of Isaiah. This is the god of Fortune, associated with the planet Jupiter, while the word translated “number” is Meni in the Hebrew text of Isaiah. This is another Babylonian god of fortune, in this instance associated, it would seem, with the planet Venus. If we take these factors into account, we will find that the text of Isaiah 65:11 may be interpreted more sensibly as follows:

“But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for Gad, and that furnish the drink offering unto Meni.” (Isaiah 65:11)

The Apostle Paul gave a similar warning:

“Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.”
(Colossians 2:8)

As Christians we belong to Christ! Satan has lost his hold over us. We have been set free! We allow ourselves to be “spoiled” or robbed when we slip back into a pagan mindset and imagine that an invisible force – such as luck, chance, fortune, karma, fate, or destiny – has a hold over us.

We should not be bothered in the slightest by astronomical events or allow phenomena like the “four blood moons” to concern us.

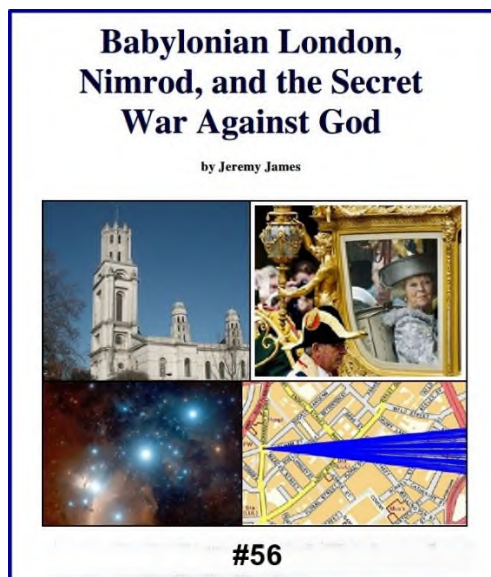

If the citizens of this world attach some significance to multi-planetary alignments, that’s their business. If “the heathen are dismayed at them”, that’s their choice. If they allow themselves to be swayed by Babylonian “philosophy and vain deceit”, we are not to share in their confusion. We have God’s Word to instruct us and we have the earnest of the Holy Spirit dwelling within us to guide us. In short we have everything we need to serve and honor Christ, to sanctify our minds, and to seek His holy will in our daily lives.

“But Jupiter is in Virgo!” they proclaim. Let them mouth their vain Babylonian notions. They have gone astray and ignored the plain meaning of God’s Word.

Our contact or involvement with fate and destiny ended forever the day we were born again. Praise the LORD!

Astrology and As Above So Below

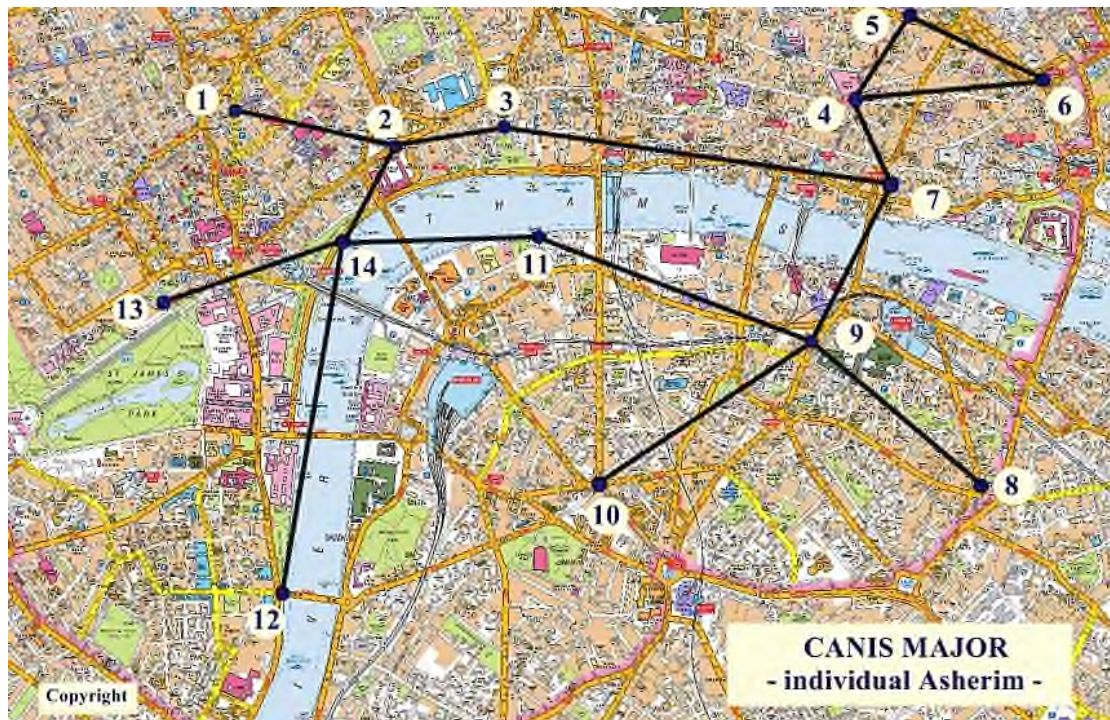

The metropolitan area of London in the UK is a modern Heliopolis, a sun city designed in accordance with the occult principal, As Above So Below, which is the basis of Egyptian/Babylonian astrology. The Freemasonic cult that rules the UK has been following this astrological plan for a long time. It was drawn up in the 17th century and set in motion with the Great Fire of London in 1666. The metropolis is covered with obelisks, monuments and Asherim which honor the fallen host of heaven, symbolized by the sun and the moon, the planets and the stars. We examined this in detail in our earlier study, Babylonian London, Nimrod, and the Secret War Against God.

We give below just one example of what they are doing. They have taken the Canis Major asterism – which seems to be a key astrological element in their End Time plan – and expressed it “Below”, that is on the earth, via the Asherim shown in Appendix A:

Canis Major* asterism in the night sky

Canis Major asterism on the ground (in London, UK)

The elaborate incorporation of astrological symbolism into the monumental architecture of London is proof that the Enemy is making use of this ancient Babylonian system of magic and mind control in ways the public hardly understands. Even the ‘science’ of Astronomy is being exploited as a means of promoting pagan mythology, invisible forces, and astrological symbolism.

Abraham

As Christians we look to the heavens because they declare the glory of God. We see in their amazing grandeur the hand of the wonderful God who made them. When viewed in their fulness, their beauty is indescribable.

It is significant that when God wanted to show Abraham the future that He had planned for Israel, He told him to go outside, look up at the night sky and try to count the total number of stars in the heavens:

“And he brought him forth abroad, and said,
Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be.” (Genesis 15:5)

The Word of God tells us that Abraham believed the promise that God made and that He “counted it to him for righteousness.”

We can easily overlook an important detail in this highly significant scene. God had made it as easy as possible for Abraham to have faith in His promise by setting it where His glory was declared. At the LORD's request, he was quietly surveying the immensity and beauty of the night sky. As he did so he could more easily believe that the wonderful God who created this astonishing vista was certainly capable of honoring His incredible promise.

The scene that Abraham beheld was probably very similar to the one shown in the photo below. The Enemy does not want mankind to behold a sight like this. Why? Because it declares the glory of God! He uses all kinds of tricks and distractions, technology and sorcery, pseudo-science and mythology to keep men from seeking it out, or even from realizing that it exists!

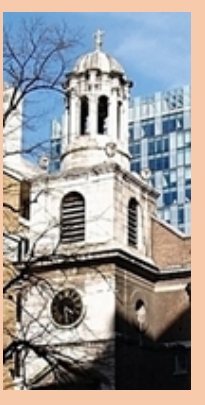

“Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises... ¹ Sing unto God, sing praises to his name: extol him that rideth upon the heavens by his name JAH, and rejoice before him... ² Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth; O sing praises unto the Lord; Selah... ³”
