

Why Rational People Believe Greenhouse Gas Propaganda

by Jeremy James

The holographic elephant in the room

In some of our earlier papers we examined the various reasons why otherwise sensible individuals can believe the most irrational propositions. A prime cause of this is what we call magical thinking, where one of the logical steps that we would normally take when evaluating an argument is replaced by something imaginary. Our modern media presents us with so many fictitious scenarios for our ‘entertainment’ that our minds have become accustomed from childhood to temporarily ‘believe’ or accept as true something which we know has little or no validity.

Take the Star Trek series. It violates so many laws of physics that no rational person could give credence to any of it. But in order to “enjoy” the show we are prepared to suspend our disbelief. The more we indulge in this fanciful form of perception, the greater the risk that we will employ it in our everyday life. Perhaps we will not do this where big issues are at stake, but many will casually lapse into a quiescent, uncritical state of mind when matters of less importance are concerned. This is more likely to happen as the amount of fresh information or ‘news’ that assails us daily continues to grow.

Scientists who have studied mass psychology have learned that, if a society can be induced to accept a set of propositions as tentatively true for at least two months, most of its members will incorporate them into their “reality” and never question them again.

Brainwashing in North Korea

American prisoners who returned after the Korean War were surprisingly sympathetic to Communism, in many cases to the point where they condemned the capitalist system and refused, at first, to reintegrate into American society. These men had been subjected to a brand of brainwashing which until then had not been used in the West. Without the use of drugs or the threat of violence, the Koreans had undermined the cognitive anchors which held their worldview in place. This was achieved through daily conversations in which the soldiers, interviewed separately, were required to answer carefully selected questions over and over. Bit by bit they lost confidence in the answers they had previously given and began to absorb the ideas suggested by their interrogators. In their disoriented state they failed to see how their mental processes were being manipulated.

American prisoners in North Korea, October 1950.

This technique had a high success rate with white Americans, but only got modest results with black personnel. This greatly intrigued the US military psychologists. Why were the African-American soldiers so resistant to this form of brainwashing? They found that the Korean technique worked so well on white personnel because they didn't know they were being manipulated. The black men, however, had grown up in a culture where the verbal manipulation of their ethnic group was commonplace. The moment the Korean interrogators launched into their line of questioning, which was designed to undermine a captive's autonomy and sense of identity, the black men soon recognized what they were up to.

How can a man go into a woman's washroom and pretend to be a woman? How can any society tolerate such grotesque conduct? And yet this wicked trickery began under Obama, a black President. A significant proportion of white Americans failed to see that they were being manipulated. This, seemingly, continues to be the case today.

Perhaps the boycott of Budweiser beer is a sign that white America is finally waking up. The washroom trick is a variation of the brainwashing technique used in Korea, where the victims – in this case the whole of America – did not realize that they were being manipulated.

Corporate Amerika

With a straight face, corporate America seriously tried to contend that an oppressed minority – the so-called ‘transgender’ community – were being unfairly treated and that it was the duty of all decent Americans to correct this injustice. Of course it too was a hoax. There is no transgender community and no injustice. There are, instead, a small number of mentally unstable people in need of counselling. The injustice was committed by the psychiatric professionals who fed this nonsense into the minds of their vulnerable patients. Starting in 2017, Obama and his cronies began using these disturbed individuals to concoct a fictitious injustice and blame it on the American people.

The hoax worked because the majority of the population failed to see that they were being scammed. They were like the white soldiers in Korea who tried to wrestle with the arguments made by their interrogators. The black soldiers, on the other hand, didn’t have to argue with anyone! They knew they were being conned. They knew the whole exercise, from start to finish, was designed to mess with their minds – so they didn’t allow it to happen.

“Now, therefore, I, Barack Obama, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim June 2009 as Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Pride Month. I call upon the people of the United States to turn back discrimination and prejudice everywhere it exists.”

Most Americans failed to see that Obama legitimized gender fluidity in this Proclamation.

White Americans were unable to admit to themselves that Obama was a liar. As a result they began to wrestle with this new moral conundrum, not realizing that when you argue with a fool, you are falling for his folly – “Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him” (Proverbs 26:4). Everyone KNOWS that transgenderism is biological nonsense, the product of a serious mental disturbance, but they lacked the courage to say so. They didn’t want to believe that the first black President of the United States was a liar and a deceiver.

So, in violation of God’s Word, the pastors and Christian leaders of America joined the Fool in his folly, seemingly hoping that the madness would pass. The Fool himself revealed just how many fools were sitting in our pews, gormlessly weighing, and giving credence to, whatever moral novelty the Fool invented.

As the weeks turned into months a huge proportion of the population adjusted to this new ‘reality’. The experts were right after all. It is only necessary to get the masses to believe idiotic nonsense for two months and they will have great difficulty thereafter reverting to their former worldview.

Six years later America is suffering more than ever from the festering effects of Obama’s perversion. It was no accident that a sodomite president with a male ‘wife’ was the principal instrument that Satan used to turn the natural order upside down:

“Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter’s clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not?” (Isaiah 29:16)

Another Fool beguiles the nation

In doing so he laid the foundation for another ‘two-month reality switch’ – the great Covid hoax. In their haste to “flatten the curve,” at the behest of another consummate deceiver, the American public did as Donald Trump directed and allowed themselves to believe the most idiotic nonsense. Lock up those who are well! Shut down society! The sky is falling!

Within 8-10 weeks the vast majority of the population had passed a point of no return. They were convinced that a novel disease had actually come into existence (it hadn't) and threatened to kill us all (it didn't), a disease that could be identified with a test (it couldn't) and prevented by a vaccine (Yet more lies! – it was an experimental serum of unknown composition, with no proven therapeutic effect, that was too dangerous to test on animals).

A Storm of Lies

Why tell one lie using this mass brainwashing technique when you can tell a whole series of them? Once an aptitude for discernment in a population falls below a certain threshold, they are depressingly easy to exploit. The swindlers are pushing an open door. As they used to say in the old days, it's like taking candy from a baby.

The Laodicean church

This explains why the changes that must be made to bring about a New World Order are being implemented with such rapidity. The public has shown virtually no capacity to resist. Our pastors have better things to do, our preachers are unable to articulate more than a tiny fraction of the wickedness that is rampant in our society, our elders are babes whimpering for milk, and many who genuinely love the LORD are listening to the wrong people.

Here's a simple example. Recently a faithful Christian in our community, who has served the LORD with joy for many years, told me that her pastor had preached a sermon defending the Biblical doctrine of two genders. Out of curiosity I went looking for his sermon online but despite an extensive search I couldn't find it. This is where we are today. Pastors who claim to be exposing the lies are hiding the truth under a bushel. Only a few dozen attendees heard his message – such as it was – but if they wanted to share it with others, with people who really needed to hear it, they were unable to do so.

Did this church, or thousands like it, ever write to a newspaper or post flyers declaring its support for traditional marriage and family values? Did it ever reveal to the world that sodomy is both harmful and morally wrong, that transgenderism is a nasty lie, or that abortion is cold-blooded murder? Of course not! They only ‘defend’ the Truth behind closed doors, before an audience of sympathizers, refraining from any public expression of concern or revulsion at what our Marxist governments are doing. They never emerge from under their protective “bushel” and state firmly, for all to hear, the immutable truth of God’s Word.

The Biblical reason for all of this

There is a straightforward reason for this, even where pastors and preachers appear to be committed to their vocation: They don’t actually hate the lies which they claim to be exposing. The heartfelt passion voiced by David is entirely missing from their lives:

“I hate and abhor lying: but thy law do I love.”
(Psalm 119:163)

This is the lukewarm church, the Laodicean church described in chapter 3 of the Book of Revelation. Most of its members have neither a passion for righteousness nor a hatred of evil. They are neither hot nor cold. We see ample evidence that the vast majority of our pastors, preachers and elders have little zeal for truth. And there is not the slightest sign that they “hate and abhor lying”!

Believers in the early 20th century may have been puzzled by the vehemence with which Jesus dismissed these ‘Christians’:

“So then because thou art lukewarm,
and neither cold nor hot,
I will spue thee out of my mouth.”
(Revelation 3:16)

They must have asked themselves how, at some time in the future, any professing group of Christians could claim to follow the Word of God, and give every appearance of doing so, and yet be so far removed from Truth that Our Lord would reject them utterly.

It is much easier for us to understand this today because we have seen the process at work. We have witnessed the steady disintegration of faith to the point where virtually no-one refers to Satan’s plan to destroy the church, or identifies what he is doing, or points with alarm at the progress he has made. Most of us would have to drive hundreds of miles to find a congregation that sincerely grieves over the catastrophe that has taken place in the past few years.

We were shown the importance the LORD attaches to sincere lamentation in the Book of Ezekiel:

“And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.”
(Ezekiel 9:4)

These are the people to whom Jesus is referring in Matthew 5:6, who “hunger and thirst after righteousness.”

But our leaders are silent. Where we would expect to hear a lion roaring, we hear – only occasionally – a mouse squeaking.

Propaganda is being used to drown out God’s Word

Propaganda exploits our human propensity to believe any assertion that is repeated over and over, especially by someone in authority. It takes effort to reject an empty assertion, and determined effort to reject it continually. Propaganda is little more than advertising that has been tailored to achieve a political goal. And like standard commercial advertising, it works.

Our sin-damaged minds have lost the ability to hate lies. The masses – and our churches – are largely indifferent to the role that lying plays in modern life. So when the Wicked revealed their existence in 2017, where they stood together as one and brazenly declared their hatred for Christian morality, virtually no-one noticed.

We covered this in our paper, The Children of Wickedness have Revealed both their Existence and their Goal (#119). In brief, 53 major companies joined together to support a challenge in the Supreme Court to any legal restrictions on access by ‘transgenders’ to public school restrooms. This was a revolutionary development since never in history had corporate America come together in this way to defend a moral or social policy position. The reason they gave for their involvement was pathetic, namely that their ability to recruit, retain and deploy staff would be adversely affected by these restrictions!

As we stated in #119: “If the big corporations of America thought it was necessary to submit a brief to the Supreme Court every time their interests were likely to be affected by the Court's decision, the Court would be inundated with submissions. How many amicus briefs have been submitted by Fortune 500 companies to restrict the availability of online pornography, which has a very deleterious effect on workplace productivity and morale? Or online gambling, or online gaming, or drug treatment programs in the local community, or school curricula, or college fees? The list is long. It is doubtful whether any of their employees are unaffected by these and similar issues, but they are largely ignored by the big corporations.”

The small group of families that own and control corporate America are generational Luciferians. They despise Christianity and have waited a long time for the opportunity to attack our God-given rights in an open court. The way they came together in 2017 and revealed their agenda was remarkable. Until this time they had always taken great care to hide their contempt for Christianity and Biblical values. By stepping forward in this way they were taunting, in effect, the leaders of our churches and brazenly putting on show the weapons at their disposal.

What does the future hold when some of the biggest and most powerful corporations in America are working together to undermine the Bible and its values? Consider the size and influence of the organizations concerned. They include Amazon, Apple, Airbnb, eBay, Etsy, Gap, IBM, Intel, LinkedIn, Lyft, Microsoft, PayPal, Yahoo, Twitter, and Spotify.

Corporate giants join to blaspheme the LORD

How can our pastors and preachers continue to ignore the existence of this Luciferian alliance? The enemy is no longer hiding in the shadows but boldly dancing before our eyes, daring those who claim to be defending the immutable laws of God to stand and oppose them. They are like Goliath on the plain of Elam who, for forty days, pranced about in his military regalia, pouring scorn on his adversaries and blaspheming the God of Israel.

The lies being promulgated by the Luciferian alliance are disguised, and thus allowed to persist, by a general failure to identify the liars. After all, why would Intel or IBM or Microsoft want to attack Christianity? Other players in this sinister alliance – companies like Target and the makers of Budweiser – are pushing gender perversion even more aggressively today than ever before, and the public are starting to respond. Alas, as yet, very few can see that ALL of these companies, which are led by servants of Satan, are working together in accordance with a centrally co-ordinated plan to undermine Biblical morality and corrupt the younger generation.

Greenhouse laughing gas

The liars behind the global warming deception are harder to identify. The media spreads the propaganda but who pays the media? And if the media is reporting lies concocted by the scientists, then who is paying the scientists? To the average person it seems highly improbable that anyone could benefit from such an elaborate and highly expensive program of deception. What it more, it is hard to see how the high level funding needed to keep this program in motion is being continuously made available.

Christians who truly love the LORD should be able to overcome this hurdle. For them the answer ought to be obvious. The mastermind behind all of this is the same being who offered to give the whole world to Jesus if he would bow down and worship him.

Satan owns the people who own the big corporations. In order to gain and retain their positions they must accept him as their supreme commander. And this means carrying through with his grand plan to install the Antichrist.

The hoax known as manmade global warming is overseen by a wide spectrum of experts who hold influential positions in their respective fields. Just about every branch of science is being used to fabricate a model of climate change which can be used to support the many outrageous claims made by the doomsayers. If the public is bombarded continually with messages from these so-called experts which proclaim, over and over, in the name of science, that greenhouse gases exist and that their accumulation poses a threat to civilization, we should hardly be surprised if the majority of their audience believe them.

We have already examined the multiplicity of lies which together constitute the global warming hoax – see our paper The Lie in the Sky: Manmade Global Warming (#208).

Also, we have spoken many times about other lies being told by the Establishment, such as Evolution and the supposed existence of dinosaurs. Evolution is a blatant hoax, chock full of nonsensical assertions, and backed to the hilt by academics who will believe anything, and teach anything, rather than accept that the LORD God created all life. The blatant atheism and anti-Christian sentiment behind their opinions does not seem to have alerted the public to the fact that Evolution is a religious belief or a metaphysical conviction. As science it is garbage. Its only purpose is to confound the account of Creation given in the Book of Genesis and lure mankind into a materialistic trap.

The Antichrist branch of modern science

The same people who lied outrageously about Evolution for the past 150 years are now lying outrageously manmade global warming (MGW).

Evolution first came to prominence in 1859, and despite reams of evidence adduced thereafter to show that it has no validity, it continues to be endorsed by the scientific community. Since it is designed to attack Christianity and mock the Bible it receives unqualified support in the media and as much funding as the hoaxers require to keep it in the public eye. Both the BBC and National Geographic play a major role in maintaining this vulgar deception.

MGW only took off in 1979, when a report by the US National Academy of Sciences “acknowledged” the potential for human-induced climate change from the burning of ‘fossil fuels’ and the excessive production of CO₂.

On foot of their success in promoting the lie of Evolution, the Luciferian Elite know how to concoct a powerful pseudo-scientific theory and keep it running, despite all the evidence showing that it has no basis in fact. MGW is now being used to impose tyrannical controls over mankind, to restrict industrial output, to curtail the production of food, to limit many traditional forms of human activity, and to micro-manage the lives of ordinary individuals.

It also allows them to assign a “carbon footprint” to each person and hold them responsible, albeit to a miniscule degree, for the alleged “destruction” of life on earth. Bit by bit they are programming the masses to believe the earth is vastly overpopulated and that some form of “culling” is needed to restore it to its former glory. The Gaia philosophy behind all of this is Paganism, pure and simple. The earth goddess they call Gaia will look after us, they say, if we treat her with respect, but if we fail to do so, she will withdraw her blessings and destroy us all.

MGW is a poisonous lie with epic implications for human liberty and religious expression. The Elite are using it to crush all resistance to their plan to bring about a ‘new world order’ and to impose, under the guise of “doing good,” a totalitarian system of control over the whole of mankind.

Farmers in the Netherlands protest against government plans to buy up thousands of farms and remove them from production.

Demonising common atmospheric gases

Dutch farmers are being forced to sell their land to the government, ostensibly for the purpose of reducing nitrogen emissions. Apparently the jokers who peddle this garbage have identified nitrogen as a major contributor to the greenhouse effect, despite the fact that the air we breathe is 78 percent nitrogen! While nitrogen of itself does not exercise a greenhouse effect, its presence in the atmosphere in the form of NO₂ and N₂O is deemed by them to constitute a much more potent threat to our survival than CO₂.

By demonising nitrogen in this way, they can extend their attack to farming and food production, which make extensive use of nitrogen-based fertiliser. Cattle, sheep and goats are also a target in this sickening deception since they emit methane (CH₄) which also happens to be a potent greenhouse gas. Apparently belching and farting livestock pose a threat to our survival!

The farmers of Ireland got a taste of this insanity when it emerged, a few weeks ago, that the government was planning to cull 200,000 cattle from the national herd to meet greenhouse gas targets, at a cost of $750m!

The Marxist gangsters who run Ireland are no different from the Marxist gangsters who run the Netherlands. They are all members of the Luciferian new world order alliance which is using a brutal arsenal of lies to deceive and oppress the masses and turn the social order upside down.

The real flag of the EU. The central portion is usually omitted.

Christians should be able to see through these lies

Christians who love God's Word should be able to see through these lies. How on earth can traditional farming endanger anyone? How can nitrogen-based fertiliser, which is essential for food production, become a threat to our survival? How can CO₂, which is a fundamental ingredient in the cycle of life, become a "greenhouse gas"?

The whole theory of MGW is a farrago of lies, a grotesque pseudo-science designed by very clever people on behalf of the Ruling Elite. There is no such thing as manmade global warming, as we show in our paper #208. Greenhouse gases do not exist. CO₂ is harmless. So too are CH₄, NO₂ and N₂O. The real danger to our survival is the belching and farting of venal politicians who, devoid of moral scruples or a modicum of humanity, are prepared to peddle this inane nonsense on behalf of their demon-empowered paymasters.

For those who hate and abhor lying, none of this should be problematic.

Censorship is growing more intense

As our readers well know, the Elite want to silence dissent and suppress free and open debate. Our website, zephaniah.eu, has been censored since 2014 by Google and more recently by YouTube. Anyone who tries to leave a comment on YouTube which refers to our website will find it is immediately deleted.

The censorship is becoming more intense. AI software is now being used to conduct an extensive search of all websites in the US and elsewhere and identify writers who appear to be challenging state policy and exposing its defects. Their views and opinions are tarred with the blanket term disinformation and condemned as junk. Increasingly the authors are being accused of deliberately misleading the public and, under proposed legislation in many countries, will be subject to criminal sanctions.

Communists despise free speech. The Elite in the US have assigned to the infamous RAND corporation the task of tracking and tracing purveyors of ‘disinformation’, presumably with a view to shutting down their websites – or worse – when the international house of cards collapses:

RAND website “fighting disinformation”

<https://www.rand.org/research/projects/truth-decay/fighting-disinformation.html>

The two screenshots below confirm that the RAND disinformation office exists and that it uses the services of a website called Lead Stories FactChecker to help with its research.

The last screenshot shows an email I received on 2 June from Lead Stories FactChecker, seeking to establish whether Jeremy James and another named individual were one and the same person.

Now, why on earth would the great RAND corporation want to know this? Bear in mind that neither Jeremy James nor the other named person are living in the United States or have American citizenship! Furthermore, the website in question – zephaniah.eu – is not supported by a US-based platform!

Clearly, the zephaniah website must be spreading information which the intelligence community in the US do not want the public to know about. Perhaps we should be flattered. After all, they are confirming that our website is a valuable resource for anyone who wants to learn what the Children of Wickedness are up to.

Fighting Disinformation Online

A Database of Web Tools

Last updated December 19, 2019

The rise of the internet and the advent of social media have fundamentally changed the information ecosystem, giving the public direct access to more information than ever before. But it's often nearly impossible to distinguish accurate information from low-quality or false content. This means that disinformation—false or intentionally misleading information that aims to achieve an economic or political goal—can become rampant, spreading further and faster online than it ever could in another format.

As part of its Countering Truth Decay initiative, and with support from the Hewlett Foundation, RAND is responding to this urgent problem. Our researchers identified and characterized the universe of online tools developed by nonprofits and civil society organizations to target online disinformation. These tools were created to help information consumers, researchers, and journalists navigate today's challenging information environment.

Lead Stories FactChecker
Fact-checker service used by RAND

Founded in 2016

Lead Stories is a web-based fact-checking platform that identifies false or misleading stories, rumors, and conspiracies by using its Trendolizer technology to identify trending content that is then fact-checked by their team of journalists. This fact-checking website is not affiliated with RAND; it is owned and operated by Lead Stories LLC, which you can read more about here: leadstories.com

Lead Stories FactChecker is not affiliated with RAND. It was selected for this database because it fits our researchers' inclusion criteria.

CONCLUSION

David said: “I hate and abhor lying: but thy law do I love.” He could hate and abhor the lies around him BECAUSE he loved the Word of God. By our continual immersion in His Word, we learn to distinguish between truth and lies. We also learn to love the truth and hate all that is false and subversive:

“Through thy precepts I get understanding:
therefore I hate every false way.”
(Psalm 119:104)

The Enemy has taught a great many professing Christians to love everything and hate nothing. They have been thoroughly deceived.
